With which is incorporated THE CHINA DIRECTORY. This is the TRIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL ISSUE. and will be found, as usual, to show an advance on preceding years both in fullness and accuracy f information.

The DIRECTORY covers the whole of the ports and cities of the Far East, from Penang to Vladivostock, in which Europeans reside. Not only is the Directory as full and complete in each case as it can be made, but each Colony Port, or Settlement is preferred by a DESCRIP TION, earefully revised each year, some of which will serve as accurate Guides for the Tourist. giving every detail in connection with the places. their History, Topography, &c., &c. The Information afforded in these Descriptions alone would suffice to fill an ordinary volume, consisting of over Eighty highly interesting articles, packed with facts concisely set out, and containing statistics of the TRADE of each Country and Port.

The work contains Directories and Descripions of Tainanfu Peking' Kinking Hankow Newchwang Lakow Whohang Port Arthur Swatow Ichang Canton Ti-rtsin sufficiently for its own protection. But as the Consul explained at the late might repudiate; and as the landrenters are not all British, the defaulters could not he sued except in their own courts, and he illustrated this by the extreme case of Peruvian subject being hailed before Peruvian Consul. If this be the last word the British Settlement of Tientain, it seems to have been promptly disposed of by a landrenter present, who explained to the Consul that he had wholly misapprobended the case. The whole land of the concession being leased by the Imperial Chinese Government sublets it to the occupants of all na tionalities, on its own conditions. These a set of Eand Regulations, and General Regulations given under the hand and seal of H.M. Minister in Peking. These conditions of lease and Land and Goneral Regulations provide for the self-government of the settlement in every respect. Aliene, such as the imaginary Peruvian, ar "with the officially certified consent of their National Authority," and the simple remedy provided for non-compliance with the Regnlations is that H.B.M. Consul or any one 8.50 authorised by him shall re-enter and repossess the land of any such delinquent alien. 20.00 of the Tientsin Consul seem slightly arti ficial. He might have put his case against gesting a general repudiation, which might functions, neglecting to collect revenue, and obligations. Such a contingency is of course conceivable in any corporate body, but the investing public, about whom so much gratuitous solicitude is shown, do not fear su scared by such far-fetched hypotheses.

dictum, and representing the necessity the are under of pledging future revenues order to effect needed improvements which admits of and which are calculated to last for many years. But officials who have once usually experience great difficulty in retracing their steps, and will rather commit original error. We should be surprised, however, if H.M. Minister avails bimself the zealous Consul used in his name. The Land and General Regulations of Tieutsin which constitute the charter of the settle house contracts, are very clearly and formally promulgated by the British Go vernment. But a reservation is made for emergencies—a very wise thing in the circumstantes seeing that the unforeseen ion of these mixed settlements-that H.B.M. Minuter shall have power "to rethis power the Consul seems to claim for the Minister the right to interfere in every detail of the Municipal administration. The Maister may, we hope, be trusted to Dr. Siegert's Angostura in his hand the reserved power to after the Regulations he also knows that such things have to be done " decently and in order."

For we next find the Dist remind ed of the purposes of its own existence and of the part it has to play in the national polity after which His Majesty preceeds to inculous the necessity of circumspection and moderation in these initiatory stages of representative in stitutions. Then follows a singularly emphatic and directly phrased condemnation of the small strifes and wasted opportunities that disfigure the relations of the Legislature and the Administration and impade the progress of the empire. This significant part of the Rescript will have great effect. It is a clear rebake to the Opposition. and will be thus interpreted by the nation; while His Majesty's appeal to his Ministers to restore order, and to the Representatives to appreciate his anxiety, is sure to command implicit compliance. Coming to the actual subject of conflict between the Opposition and the Cabinet, the Emperor gives his decision distinctly in favour of the latter. IMPERIAL QUARTO. NULISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN

NOW ON BALE.

PRONUNCIATION. An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Feilung. British str., 752, Ballard, Dec. 25, Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service En Ping, British str., 647, Walts, Jin. 17, this Work stands unrivolled. All the new ! words which the Chinese have of latey ears been Fungsbun, Chine to str., 863, Wallace, Feb. 16, compelled to coin to express the numerous objests in machinery, photography, telegraphy, ashun, Chinesestr., 1,504, Lence ter, Feb. 16, and in science generally, which the rapid advance (), M. S. N. Co of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are G. H. Warpaus, British bark, 533. Christensen, here given in extenso. Each and every word is. fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises Hae-up. Chinese str., 869, Andrew, Jan. 23, for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given Haechan . Chinese str., 300, Frigast, Jan. 20, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography Hae-shin, Ohinese str., 763, Wells, Jan. 14, displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size | Hacting, Chinese str., 1,099, Paramore, Feb. 16, of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously Hainan, German str., 741, Samuelsen, Feb. 18, attnined, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charace Hilla, British seh., 306, Gehrk, Jan. S. Nil terized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English student of this difficult language absolutely rehave one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherte pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages anables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with nativos when understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China il cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large marto pages. 4 Vols. IMPHRIAL QUARTO, Price. $20. A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies. LONDON: TRUBNER & Co., 60, PATERNOSTER ROW.
